Grad Week at JAWS

This weekend marks the convocation ceremonies for the graduating class of 2019! This week's Friday 4pm grad rehearsal is mandatory for any grad who expects to walk the stage! We are also excited that our partners at Lac La Biche Outreach Schools will join us in our convocations, meaning this will be one of the biggest grads ever! While the school staff organize convocation, the other celebrations are made possible by contributions of community volunteers — dedicated parents, selfless students, and a handful of staff advisors have worked all year to make this event memorable for graduates and their families. If you haven't helped out yet, take some time to talk to a grad committee member to see how you can help and offer your appreciation for their dedication, commitment, and school spirit! Another important reminder for grads and their families is to thank all of their teachers who have been holding alternate assessments, replacing missed assignments, spending lunch breaks and prep time tutoring students — all to make sure we have as many students as possible meet the expectations and requirements to walk the stage this Saturday, June 8 at 1:00pm in the Bold Center. And remember — just because we celebrate does not mean you are done! We have lots of instruction, assignments to complete, and diplomas to write before your grade 12 story is over! Celebrate safely, cherish your family and friends, and see you back Monday morning for the final push through exam week — see the June 2019 exam schedule below!
